 Here below you can find the map of the trains in Copenhagen region.
 Copenhagen central station is called "København H".
 All stations are marked with the sign you can find on the right.

METRO

When travelling inside Copenhagen, the metro is very useful.
The metro stations are signaled by the sign you can find on the right

Bus

There are many busses travelling inside Copenhagen but also to its outskirts.
The list is too long to list here but we recommend you to use either Google Map or Rejseplanen (www.rejseplanen.dk) to plan your trips.

6. HOW TO GET TO EVENT LOCATION

BY CAR

You can use the following Google map link to create a driving route: <http://tinyurl.com/nv8ax46>
Just click the blue icon in the middle of the map, and select “to here” in the pop-up.

BY PLANE

The main airport in Denmark is Copenhagen Airport (CPH), called Kastrup, located around 25km from the city but easily accessible by metro.

To get to the cabin from Kastrup :

1. At the airport, follow the signs for train/metro.
You need to buy a 6-zone tickets, that can be bought close to the stairs leading up to the metro, and costs around 72 DKK or 9.6 €. Then go up one floor to take the metro. It is the same metro on both sides so don't worry.
2. Take the metro until the station Nørreport.
You need to go up to reach the ground floor. And then look for the bus stop for the bus 150S direction Kokkedal Station.
There is one every 15-20 minutes so don't worry if you miss the first one, another one is coming soon.

Get off at Nærum Station bus stop. Ask the driver beforehand to tell you when to get off.

If you arrive late (after 00:00) or very early in the morning (before 06:00), you will need to take the night bus 95N from Nørreport instead of the 150S
